RESCINDS:

FBIS Collection Guidance No 85-21: Soviet Space
Astronomy Missions [Redacted]

STAT

1. The Office of Space and Weapons Research (OSWR) continues to rely on FBIS sources for information on Soviet space missions. The attached guidance reflects their current and ongoing need for information on Soviet solar terrestrial physics space research missions from sources available to you. It is unclassified for monitors and editors in the field.

2. If this guidance does not make your selection of material easier, we need to tell the consumer how to better tailor their future guidance. Please use the FCB number and subject on the attachment when sending us your suggestions. Field offices can destroy this cover memo.

3. For records control, we have assigned the category of USSR Unmanned Space Missions FBIS Collection Guidance No 87-07. For easier field use, any guidance falling with this category will be assigned this same number. There is no expiration date for this document in the field.

FOR THE DIRECTOR, FBIS
